

2 Suckers on a Stick

Equipment	a long skinny log 7+ scouts (including 2 members of the audience)
Preparation	not much (1 time through)
Action	Someone chooses 2 people from the audience, and they each hold one end of the log. This acts as a counter at a store. The store owner is standing behind the "counter". The first scout comes in and asks "Do you have any Skittles?" The store owner replies "Nope". The next scout comes in and says "Do you have any M&Ms?" The store owner replies, "Nope". This continues inserting different candy types until there is only one more scout left. The last scout comes in, asks if they have a different candy, and when the store owner says no, the scout says, "Well then what do you have?" Finally, the store owner says, "Well, I have 2 suckers on a stick!"

Title	60 -second skit
Equipment	2 quarter-staff size walking sticks
Preparation	Some rehearsal time to choreograph the moves.
Action	Two Scouts enter from either side of the campfire circle. They begin a series of carefully choreographed movements with the quarterstaffs (striking each other's staffs, poking at each other, etc.) all in slow motion. As they go through these motions, each one counts "1-2-3" "4-5", etc., taking turns, until they reach 60. When they reach 60, they both stop face the audience and announce: "We have just wasted one minute of your time"

Title	A Funny Skit for Summer
Equipment	5 styrofoam/paper cups  5 coins(quarters work best)  5 blind folds  1 tall glass of water
Preparation	Cut the bottom out of one of the cups
Action	The patrol that is running this picks five scouts. They have them stand in front of everyone. One scout explains that thier task is very easy. All they have to do is drop the coin into the cup. The scout running this demonstrates with a cup with a bottom. He is blindfolded, a coin balanced on his nose and the cup is placed in his waist band of his pants. he explains no hands allowed. He then drops his head and tries to get the coin into a cup with a bottom. Then you get your five scouts together that you picked and blind fold them and give them the coin. After all of them are blindfolded place the cup in thier waist band of thier shorts/pants. Give the first four guys the cups with the bottoms, but the last guy the one without the bottom. Tell each one on the count of three drop it in your cup. Make sure you do them one at a time. The first four guys try. But then on the fifth guy you say one...two... at this time a scout that was hiding with the tall glass of water pours it into the cup without the bottom. It is funny to see thier reaction since they were not expecting water down thier leg. After it is all over give the coins to the participants.

Title Alibaba

Equipment none

Preparation two boys that can do Middle Eastern accent

Action ALIBABA (standing tall and strong)

SERVANT (approaches excitedly): Alibaba, Alibaba, how can I become as tall and strong as you are?

ALIBABA (rubbing chin): Hmmm, let me think...OK..go rub oil over your entire body every day for two weeks.

SERVANT: OK (walks off stage)

SERVANT (walks on stage crouched down bending knees): Alibaba, Alibaba..it didn't work...now I'm even shorter.

ALIBABA: Hmmm....let me think...go rub oil over your entire body for four weeks.

SERVANT: OK (walks off stage)

SERVANT (walks on stage crouched all the way down to floor-ankle level): Alibaba, Alibaba...now I am even shorter.

ALIBABA (rubbing chin): Hmmm....did you rub oil all over your entire body for four weeks?

SERVANT: Yes

ALIBABA: Hmmm...what kind of oil did you use?

SERVANT: Crisco

ALIBABA: Crisco? That's not oil! That's shortening!!!

Title Baloni

Action Scoutmaster,(who is in the front of the line) says"hey guys, since were at the top of this mountain, I bet we could yell and make an echo.
Then each person down the line(from back to front) yells something like hello or there name. Then the third person from the front yells Baloni. It does not echo back. Then the next person trys it and saya hello. It echos. Then the scoutmaster yells"I am the greatest scoutmaster in the world" and it echos back Baloni.

Title Bandana Skit

Equipment A VERY RIPE BANNANA, AND A NECKERCHEIF OR BANDANA (OLD CLOTHING OR COVERALLS PREFERED AS THE BANNANA WILL STAIN YOUR UNIFORM

Preparation TWO PEOPLE NEEDED, THE PLANT IN THE AUDIENCE AND THE INSTRUCTOR

Action THE INSTRUCTOR TELLS OF HOW THEY WENT TO PHILMONT AND WENT OUT ON A HIKE, BUT BEFORE THEY LEFT, THEY HAD TO GIVE UP MOST OF THEIR UN-NECESSARY ITEMS AND TAKE ONLY WHAT WAS NEEDED. ONE OF THE ITEMS THJEY WERE ALLOWED TO TAKE WAS THEIR PHILMONT BANDANA BECAUSE IT SERVED SO MANY PURPOSES WHICH THEY WOULD LIKE TO DEMONSTRATE. (ASK FOR A VOLUNTEER FROM THE AUDIENCE WHO ALSO HAS A BANDANA, THE OBVIOUSLY NOT TOO BRIGHT "plant" VOLUNTEERS) TELL HIM, THIS IS A BIG ROOM SO I'LL SHOW THIS SIDE AND YOU SHOW THAT SIDE, OK?, FOLLOW MY LEAD. SO FIRST YOU TAKE OUT YOUR BANDANA (PLANT PULLS OUT A BANANNA & SHOWS IT TO THE CROWD) I GOT MA BANDNANA! AND THEN DO EXACTLY WHAT THE INSTRUCTOR DOES. . . FOLD IT IN HALF, FOLD IT AGAIN, PUT IT IN YOUR BACKPOCKET, WIPE YOUR ARMPITS WITH IT, UNFOLD IT & PUT IT ON YOUR HEAD (THE WHOLE TIME MAKING COMMENTS LIKE "ARE YOU SURE? THAT FEELS

GOOD?

THIS DON'T SEEM RIGHT ! AND ALWAYS REPEAT THE ISTRUCTIONS BACK SO THAT YOU SEEM REALLY SIMPLE, BE VERY ANIMATED AND SURPRISED, BUT FOLLOW THE INSTRUCTORS LEAD)USE IT TO SHINE YOUR SHOES, ECT. AND FINALLY, WIPE OFF YOUR SWEATY FOREHEAD. WHEN THE PLANT IS COMPLETELY COVEWRED, THE INSTRUCTOR AND THE PLANT TURN AND FACE EACH OTHER IN SUPRISE. WHAT HAPPENED TO YOU? WHERES YOUR BANDANA?? BANDANA !! I THOUGHT YOU SAID BANANNA !! BOTH WALK OFF STAGE SHAKING HEADS

Title	Chicken Farmer
Equipment
Preparation	Practice
Action	The skit starts out, with 3 (or 4) scouts in a line and the last scout (hatchery owner) over on the other side of the stage. the first scout in the line pretends to start a truck, and the whole group "drives" over to the Hatchery owner. When they get there, the first scout (Farmer) gets out of the truck, and walks over to the owner while the other scouts (crew) stay in the truck. The farmer and owner greet, and the farmer announces that he would like to by 4 dozen chickens, the owner says alright, and they agree upon a price. Upon agreeing on the price, the two spit in their hands an shake. Then the farmer turns to his truck, and shouts, "Hey you guys, get on outta that truck an' loaad up these here chickens!" (note: for a good laugh, the farmer can sluur all of the words together, so almost nobody can understand him. the Crew gets out, and they load up the chickens. While the chickens are being loaded, the farmer and owner can chat about the weather or something. Once al of the chickens ar loaded, the farmer gets back in his truck, and he and the crew all drive back to the Farm. One scout announces: one week later, and the whole process is repeated. Another scout says: another week later and the farmer and crew drive to the hatchery. As before, the farmer and owner greet, and the farmer announces that he would lik to buy 5 dozen chickens. The owner wistles, and says, "man, you must have a pretty good sized farm going on now." The farmer then replies, "Well, I really can't tell yet, but I think I'm either planting them too deep, or too far apart.

Title	Cooking socks not soup
Equipment	Large cooking pot and a spoon, table? or campfire.
Preparation	Try once or twice, speak load, clear. slow
Action	4 or 5 scouts. One scout looks like he's cooking food (using a spoon to stir the brew in the pot) He leaves. A scout comes along and sees the pot and says "the soup smells good, think I'll taste it" and does so. He says, "boy is this good" and walks off stage. Another scout comes along, smells the soup and says he loves the soup and walk off stage. Another scout and another scout. The cook comes back and so does the group of scouts who tasted the soup. The group asks the cook what kind of soup he is making, because it tastes so good. The cook declares, "why I wasn't making any soup" he reaches into the pot and pulls out socks or underwear (show the underwear) begins ringing out the water and says I was washing my cloths. The four or five scouts act sick.

Title	Did you see that? / Dog-doo
Equipment	None
Preparation	2 or more participants
Action	Two or more people take part. The action can be taking place in any location; the city, the country, the woods, etc. While walking along, one person excitedly exclaims, "Whoa,cool,wow,neat!(or any similar exclamation) did you see that?" Another person who is the "dummy" for the entire skit acts like they did see the object/action while obviously looking around replies "No, What? What? I missed it." Then the person or people who saw the object say what it was (any object; Bald Eagle, fish, fancy car, cute girl etc.) and comment on how neat it was. Example; "That Salmon must've jumped three feet in the air!" Repeat this dialogue again so the "dummy" replies "No, What did I miss?. After the third or so time where the "dummy" doesn't see the object/action they decide to "fake it" so they do not seem so stupid and reply "Yes, wow! That was so cool, neat, awesome etc." For the last one, while walking along the group of people turn around and point at the ground where they just walked and and exclaim together, "Whoa! Gosh! Did you see that back there? The "dummy" Replies again, "Yes, Wow! That was amazing! Then one of the others exclaims, "Then why did you step in it? That was the biggest, gooeyest pile of dog doo I've ever seen!" The others exclaim wildly "Oh, gross!" as the "dummy" pretends to wipe his shoe off on the ground.

Title Emergency System Test

Equipment None needed

Preparation A group of scouts or leaders gather in front of the scout group.

Action Everyone in the group humms a very high pitched note, similar to the tone on the radio just before an emergency broadcast is given. The announcer says: " This has been a test of the Troop _____ emergency broadcast system. This has been only a test. In the case of a real emergency, this is what you would hear:" At that point all of the group begins to scream and run around as if terrified, and then all run away.

Title Elevator Riders

Equipment A length of rope and a stick

Preparation One Scout is the elevator operator, two Scouts portray the elevator doors by holding the rope and moving toward each other and apart at each floor

Action The elevator operator moves the stick and opens the elevator door while shouting "First floor...Lobby"

One or two Scouts enter the elevator, and the operator moves the stick to close the door. As the elevator moves from floor to floor, the passengers bounce up and down while repeating the phrase "Come on Ten"

The elevator stops the elevator and opens the door while shouting "Second floor...sporting goods" One or two more Scouts enter. After the door closes, all passengers bounce up and down, repeating the phrase "Come on Ten"

This continues for each floor, and each the time the passengers become more frantic and more agitated while repeating "Come on Ten"

By the time the elevator reaches the tenth floor, the car full of passengers should be almost out of control shouting "Come on Ten!"

The operator opens the door, and shouts "Tenth Floor...Restrooms"
All the passengers scream with relief and run out of the elevators and off stage.
